

The MBO Process

Undertaking an MBO is a time consuming and complex process. It involves many different phases with a whole host of crucial elements needing to be pieced together before the picture is complete. Whilst no two MBO's are the same, the approach to the vendor needs careful consideration, the following is a typical sequence of events :-

